

Mark Tedeschi: shooting around corners
A Maitland Regional Art Gallery Touring Exhibition
The Anthony Gallery

Friday 27 November 2015 - Sunday 17 April 2016

This exhibition of photographs by Mark Tedeschi represents his prolific and award winning photographic practice over the last twenty five years.

His images are enigmatic, humorous, and deep with subtle meaning. The exhibition covers his many photographic series which range from insightful portraits of prominent Australian artists; his compassionate view of the Aboriginal urban communities of Redfern in the 1980s; domestic interiors and everyday scenes from the streets of Italy, China and New York and Australian outback characters. Most intriguing are the images that capitalise on his unique position as both artist and Senior Crown Prosecutor for New South Wales, in which he reveals a rare insight into the cloistered world of the justice system and the personalities who work within it.
