

Caldera Art 2017

Promoting biodiversity values in Australia's Green Cauldron
The Boyd Gallery

Friday 22 September – Sunday 3 December 2017

Caldera Art 2017 presents the work of six artists who are passionate about the need to preserve the rich biodiversity and complex ecosystems of the Tweed shield volcano region.

The varied interpretations of artists Kim Godfrey, Janet Hauser, Heidi Ledwell, Greg Mulheran, Greg Newland and Jennifer Porter, all seek to generate a positive emotional response to the fragility of the natural environment and encourage the viewer to take an interest in living things found in the water, on the ground, in the canopy, the sky, and their own backyard.

Caldera Art has been developed as part of the biodiversity and conservation awareness strategy by the Tweed Shire Council's Natural Resource Management Unit.

CALDERA ART GALLERY

Caldera Art thanks Tweed Shire Council for their ongoing support.

Jennifer Porter

Receding flood (detail) ▪ 2017

oil on canvas ▪ 81 × 54cm