Contemporary Artists at the Western Front
The Boyd Gallery

Friday 22 November 2019 – Sunday 16 February 2020

In 2017 twelve leading Australian artists visited the First World War battlefields of the Western Front a century after the conflict that claimed so many lives. This exhibition brings together the works they created in response to the history and present-day reality of these sites in series of artworks that include paintings, drawings, photography and sculpture.

Salient: Contemporary artists at the Western Front is presented by New England Regional Art Museum and King Street Gallery.
